

Rheumatology Highlights Report Live & Advances in B Cell Biology: RA, SLE, and Vasculitis

These unique programs are being offered in two locations:

September 10-11, 2010
Renaissance Cleveland Hotel | Cleveland, Ohio

October 22-23, 2010
Westin Times Square | New York, New York

Internationally recognized rheumatology authorities provide their unique medical perspectives on cutting-edge data presented at EULAR 2010, extracting and distilling the most pertinent information from the thousands of abstracts and presentations. This assemblage of experts will discuss the changing landscape of rheumatology and its practical implications on clinical practice. Special emphasis will focus on identifying the most clinically germane advances in B-cell therapies for RA, SLE, and vasculitis.

Overall, these programs will be an excellent opportunity for health care practitioners to experience the best and most important aspects of EULAR 2010 without leaving the United States.
