Attend the

4th Annual Symposium on Interventional Pericardiology

The year’s symposium will zero in on current approaches to pericardial interventions as they pertain to cardiac electrophysiology. A case-based format illustrates the effectiveness of advances in diagnostics and interventional therapeutics that utilize the pericardial space, including catheter-based ablation of ventricular and supraventricular arrhythmias.

What Will You Gain By Attending?

• Summarize the anatomy of the normal and abnormal pericardium and its role in disease pathophysiology.
• Critically appraise the techniques and safety of various percutaneous and minimally invasive approaches to accessing the pericardial space.
• Discuss the use of epicardial access for catheter-based ablation of ventricular tachycardia in various disease states.
• Discuss the use of epicardial access for catheter-based ablation of supraventricular arrhythmias.
• Compare and contrast the risks and complications of pericardial access and therapeutics.

Who Should Attend?

Directed to cardiac electrophysiologists, cardiovascular disease/cardiology physicians, and associated professionals who are involved in the diagnosis and treatment of cardiac electrophysiologic abnormalities. The main focus is for electrophysiology healthcare professionals interested in expanding their clinical expertise in more complex interventions.

Accreditation

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation Center for Continuing Education is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation Center for Continuing Education designates this live activity for a maximum of 4.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Faculty Disclosure

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation Center for Continuing Education has implemented a policy to comply with the current Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education Standards for Commercial Support requiring resolution of all faculty conflicts of interest. Faculty declaring a relevant commercial interest will be identified in the activity syllabus.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The Cleveland Clinic Foundation Center for Continuing Education fully intends to comply with the legal requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you need assistance, please notify us at least two weeks prior to the activity.

Agenda

1:30 pm  Registration

2:25 pm  Welcome and Introduction
Walid I. Saliba, MD

Session I
Moderators:  Bruce D. Lindsay, MD, and Oussama M. Wazni, MD

2:30 pm  Anatomy and Fluoroscopic Landmarks Relevant to the Pericardial Space
Samuel J. Asirvatham, MD

3:00 pm  Pericardial Access and Complications
Walid I. Saliba, MD

3:30 pm  Ablation in the Pericardium: How is it Different and How Can Collateral Damage Be Prevented?
Andre d’Avila, MD, PhD

Session II
Moderators:  Patrick J. Tchou, MD, and Mandeep Bhargava, MD

4:00 pm  Evaluating and Defining Scar in the Ventricular Myocardium: Implications for Catheter Ablation
Francis E. Marchlinski, MD

4:30 pm  Epicardial Ablation in Nonischemic Cardiomyopathy
David J. Wilber, MD

5:00 pm  Refreshment Break

Session III
Moderators:  Walid I. Saliba, MD, and Andre d’Avila, MD, PhD

5:15 pm  Case Presentation: Epicardial VT in Ischemic Cardiomyopathy
William G. Stevenson, MD

5:45 pm  Unusual Utility of the Pericardial Space in Electrophysiology Procedures
Kalyanam Shivkumar, MD, PhD

Session IV
6:15 pm  Panel Discussion

Moderators:  Mandeep Bhargava, MD, and Oussama M. Wazni, MD
Panelists:  Samuel J. Asirvatham, MD; Andre d’Avila, MD, PhD; Bruce D. Lindsay, MD; Francis E. Marchlinski, MD; Walid I. Saliba, MD; Kalyanam Shivkumar, MD, PhD; William G. Stevenson, MD; Patrick J. Tchou, MD; David J. Wilber, MD
