

18th Annual International Symposium on Stereotactic Body Radiation Therapy and Stereotactic Radiosurgery and 6th Biennial International Radiosurgery Research Foundation Meeting

February 20–22, 2026

Disney's Grand Floridian Resort, Lake Buena Vista, FL

About the Symposium

The 18th Annual International Symposium on Stereotactic Body Radiation Therapy and Stereotactic Radiosurgery and 6th Biennial International Radiosurgery Research Foundation Meeting is joint sponsored by Cleveland Clinic and the International Radiosurgery Research Foundation (IRRF).

This CME activity will provide a comprehensive update on current and emerging applications of stereotactic body radiation therapy (SBRT) and stereotactic radiosurgery (SRS). Through expert-led lectures, case discussions, and debates, participants will review advances in clinical practice, technology integration, and research related to brain, spine, functional, and vascular radiosurgery. A broad range of organ-specific technical and clinical experience will be presented with opportunities to interact with faculty and system vendors.

Scientific abstracts will be solicited from attendees for electronic poster presentation sessions.

Target Audience

Radiation Oncologists, Neurosurgeons, Neuro-Oncologists, Medical Oncologists, Spine Surgeons, Neurologists, Medical Physicists, Dosimetrists, Researchers and other disciplines including Physician Assistants and Nurse Practitioners.

Learning Objectives

By the end of this symposium, participants will be able to:

- Evaluate current evidence and best practices in the use of stereotactic radiosurgery (SRS)/stereotactic body radiation therapy (SBRT) for brain, spine, and extracranial tumors.
- Incorporate emerging technologies—such as artificial intelligence, advanced imaging, and treatment planning tools—into clinical decision-making for radiosurgical procedures.
- Integrate multidisciplinary approaches for complex cases involving metastatic, benign, and functional disorders treated with radiosurgery.
