Cleveland Clinic Multispecialty Pathology Symposium

This pathology symposium will focus on practical discussions of commonly encountered problems in surgical pathology. The goal is to provide useful tips that the speakers utilize in their own practice at the microscope. We aim to address and discuss common problems and avoid an undue focus on esoterica.

In this course, renowned subspecialists who are highly sought after for their teaching skills will cover a broad spectrum of cases, including genitourinary pathology, thoracic pathology, gastrointestinal and soft tissue pathology, gynecologic pathology, and breast pathology. Practicing pathologists, fellows, and residents who attend will maintain, develop, and increase their knowledge, competence, and professional performance, with the intent to improve diagnosis and positively impact patient care.

Who Should Attend?
Pathologists, Pathology Residents and Fellows

By Attending, You Will Be Able To:

- Classify renal neoplasms using a pattern-based approach and implement the latest developments in prostate, bladder and testicular cancer
- Accurately interpret biopsies and resections with endometrial carcinoma, with emphasis on high-grade carcinomas and staging
- Review helpful morphologic, immunophenotypic, and molecular genetic features in the differential diagnosis of various breast lesions
- Discuss practical approaches to common problems in Barrett’s esophagus
- Distinguish between lung malignancies and their mimics
